

RGK49

WIRE STROP

This wire strop acts as a transportable anchor point.

The strop can be wrapped around a suitable structure to make an anchor point.

It is produced using a stainless steel wire with a PVC protective tubing over the wire. Both ends have swaged thimble eyes for connection.

Suitable for a single user only.

Each strop has it's own serial number for traceability.

Accredited to: EN 795:2012, Type B

Material: Stainless steel with PVC protective tubing

Breaking load: >30kN

Length: 0.5m

1m

1.5m

2m

